HEALTH DEPARTMENT REPORT

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of York, Maine.

The Health Department submits the following report for the year ending February first, 1917.

Communicable Diseases

The town has enjoyed an unusual freedom from communicable diseases during the year. All cases reported to the Department were promptly isolated and measures taken to prevent their spread.

Measles and Chickenpox

During the year there was an outbreak of Chickenpox which was limited to seven cases. There were ten cases of Measles with no deaths.

Typhoid Fever

During November there was an outbreak of Typhoid Fever at an eating house in the Village which threatened to become a disastrous epidemic but which was confined to the four original cases. There were no deaths. The source of the infection was definitely traced to a woman from out of town who was employed in the kitchen. It was ascertained that she was a Typhoid carrier. She left town immediately and there were no further cases.

Infantile Paralysis.

A great deal of the time of this Department was taken up during the summer in guarding against the inception of Infantile Paralysis. Because of the large number of our summer residents coming from places where this disease was raging, York was peculiarly open to the disease. All comers were subjected to a searching investigation and, where necessary, strict quarantine measures were enforced. The Health Officer acted in conjunction with the Citizens Infantile Paralysis Committee which met with him weekly during the summer. As a result of this work not a single case of the disease was reported in town during the summer. In connection with this work the Health Department issued over 500 Certificates of Health.

Laboratory

The laboratory facilities of this Department have, as heretofore, been available to the physicians of the town. Over one hundred examinations of sputum, blood, and urine have been made and much culture work has been done in connection with bacterial diseases.

The laboratory work of the Department is extremely important because specimens can be examined here and results obtained in the shortest possible time. Formerly it was necessary to forward specimens to the State Board of Health at Augusta and much valuable time was wasted.

In addition to this work of a diagnostic character many samples of milk have been examined.

Clean Up Week.

In the spring the annual "Clean Up and Paint Up" week was held. It was an unusually successful affair and many of the unsightly eyesores of the town were removed, and a general interest in cleanliness was stimulated.

Educational.

Since the opening of school some 17,000 leaflets dealing with various subjects related to health have been distributed to the school children of the town for study.

The Department has distributed each week to the licensed milk producers of the town copies of Bulletins issued by the United States Department of Agriculture dealing with various aspects of the production of clean milk.

The Health Department has maintained a column each week in the local paper and has endeavored to spread the Gospel of Health from time to time by lectures, illustrated talks, letters to parents, etc.

Milk.

As required by the Regulations of this Department licenses were issued to thirty milk dealers and the supply was kept under the supervision of this Department.

During the coming year this work will be somewhat extended and it is hoped that the farmers who are not licensed dealers will take advantage of the facilities of this Department for the analysis of milk.

Inspection of School Children.

With the fact in mind that great numbers of children suffer from physical defects of which their parents are quite unconscious until they progress so far as to cause serious symptoms of disease, an efficient system of examination of school children was inaugurated with the opening of schools in the fall.

Every child attending the schools of York was examined and a record kept of all defects discovered. As required by law notices were sent to the parents of children having defective ears and eyes. With each such notice was sent a letter from the Health Officer calling attention to the conditions that might result if these defects were not corrected. The Department hopes to extend this branch of health work during the coming year.

In all 511 children were examined. Of these 310, or 69.6 per cent. were found to have some defect—more or less serious.

Results of Examination of School Children

Number Children examined.....	511
Defective vision.....49	Per cent.....9.51
Defective hearing.....33	Per cent.....6.4
Defective tonsils.....199	Per cent.....36.9
Defective teeth.....148	Per cent.....28.9
Total Children affected.....	310 Per cent.....60.6

An outbreak of Pediculosis was discovered in one of the schools. Measures were taken which resulted in the prompt eradication of the pest.

In closing this brief report we wish to express our genuine appreciation of the support given the work of this Department by your honorable Board, and of the hearty cooperation accorded us by the Superintendent of Schools and the citizens of the town.

Respectfully submitted,

R. W. E. COLE, M. D.

REPORT OF THE Superintendent of Schools

To the Superintending School Committee of York:

It is with pleasure that I herewith submit to you and to the voters of the town the following report of the conditions, progress and needs of the schools of York.

The year which has just passed has, in my opinion, been a very successful one in our schools. While we have had a great deal of stormy and extremely cold weather, the attendance has been fairly good and the interest and enthusiasm was never better. Thanks to the watchfulness of our Health Officer we have had no epidemics of contagious diseases this year.

We have been obliged to employ six new teachers this year, four in our common schools and one in the High school. While we have been fairly successful in getting good teachers to fill the positions made vacant, I cannot urge too strongly the need of keeping our good teachers in the same position until they either cease to teach or cease to be good teachers. Much time must necessarily be lost in changing teachers each year.

The two school buildings, for the construction of which money was raised last year, were ready for use when schools opened in Sept. I am sure that the town of York may with just pride call the attention of its visitors and neighbors to its school buildings. With the completion of the new buildings at Cape Neddick and Beech Ridge, we now have five school buildings which compare very favorably with those in places much larger than York. Both the new buildings are equipped with jacketed stoves, furnishing a uniform heat and supplying fresh air. Both are also equipped with the Kaustine Waterless Toilets.

At the High School things have moved along very smoothly and, I believe, very profitably. We were fortunate enough to retain all but one of our last year's teachers. Accordingly we were able to start moving forward on the very first day of the year without having to stop and become acquainted with new conditions. One hundred and nine pupils reported at the opening of the fall term. Since our assembly room seats only 96, it may be readily seen that, in numbers at least, the school has already surpassed the expectations of its builders.

A class of 17 was graduated last June. Most of these graduates are now attending school at some higher institution. The graduating class this year will be about the same size as the one last year. Each year there is an increasing demand for courses which are more practical for those who will not attend school after leaving York High. Too many of our pupils drop out because they are not interested in the work which we are doing. Since additional courses would call for considerable more money than we have been using, it is probably not wise to attempt anything new this year.

The high cost of living has made itself felt in our schools as well as in our homes. Paper which formerly cost from 25 to 27 cents per package now sells for 60 and will probably go higher. The same condition prevails regarding all our supplies and most of our text books.

The fuel question, for the past year, has been a problem with the schools as well as with individuals. On Jan. 30 1916 we supposed that we had enough fuel on hand to last until the end of the school year, in June. The unusual weather in March, however, made it necessary to buy two car loads of coal during that time. Our coal for the present winter was ordered early in the spring and the delay in getting it was not due to neglect on the part of the Committee as was hinted in the fall. After much difficulty we have been able to get coal enough to keep our schools running and we have every reason to believe that we will be kept supplied until spring.

The figures given in the report regarding the cost of fuel may be a little misleading. The figures show that we have paid out a little less for fuel this year than was paid last year. Last year however on Jan. 30th, we had bought and paid for enough coal to last until April 1st. while this year because we have not been able to get coal in advance, the amount paid for will be gone by Feb. 10. It is estimated that our fuel bill for the remainder of this year and for next winter will be at least $350 more than we have paid out this year.

Our janitor service has cost us $136.15 more this year than last.

If we are to continue to employ good teachers, the wages paid to some of our common school teachers will have to be increased. No one will doubt but what living expenses have increased very greatly during the past two years. To counteract this, in practically every line of work, incomes have been increased. Practically all of the working people of the country have received an increase in wages of from 5 to 15 per cent, while producers are getting much more for their products than two years ago. At the same time our common school teachers are working for the same maney which they received three years ago. No increase of any importance has been made in that time while the price of board and of clothing has advanced from 15 to 30 per cent. We must do one of two things: either pay more or employ poorer teachers. In the few cases when we have tried low priced teachers the result has not been satisfactory.

At the High School, since wages were increased last year, we hope to retain our teachers without having to ask for an increased appropriation this year.

The progress of the work in Manual Training and Music is explained in the reports of the teachers who have charge of these subjects.

A meeting of the School Committee was recently held at which the needs for another year were thoroughly discussed and it was voted to recommend the following appropriations.

Report of Supervisor of Manual Training

E. S. Foster, Superintendent of Schools.

My dear Sir:

The past year has been one of marked progress in Manual Training, and each year finds us better equipped, both mentally and materially, for the work.

Elementary hand work is carried on as usual in the lower grades. The results in this work are truly gratifying inasmuch as this year has produced a 6th grade better fitted for sewing and wood working than any heretofore.

The tool equipment is slowly being increased. Three new benches were purchased in the fall, and saws, planes, and other tools such as facilitate work are constantly being added. A few more benches and tools are needed to complete the equipment.

The 6th and 7th grade boys are studying tools, adjustment etc, and are at work on small projects which become the property of the makers at the end of the spring term. Freedom of choice is allowed in the selection of articles to be made, as soon as the boy proves himself capable of working out more difficult projects.

The 8th grade boys are especially urged to make some article of furniture needed in the home. If the article chosen seems too difficult, or if it requires more time than is possible to give for its completion, it is not encouraged. In some cases the boys have earned the money to pay for the material, thus giving them an added sense of ownership. Tables of different kinds, desks, wall china racks, taborets, and foot stools are some of the articles upon which these boys are now at work. Others who failed to choose are at work on projects of my selection. The latter to be their own, if they wish to pay for the material, otherwise we hope to sell them at the annual exhibit in the spring.

The 6th grade girls are making work aprons, caps, bags, holders, and such articles as will give them much practice in plain sewing.

The 7th and 8th grade girls work together as one class, and, as the 8th grade have already had two years of plain sewing, it seems fitting that they should learn some work that may prove both enjoyable and profitable, and thus help to occupy some of their spare moments after leaving the grades, so to this end much emphasis is placed on embroidery of different kinds. Button-bags, laundry bags, rubber cases, doilies, and fudge aprons are a few of the articles being embroidered. It is not always easy to purchase the right material for work of this kind, nor is it economy to do so individually, and realizing that difficulty would be experienced, I have, in a few instances, purchased material for the classes. If possession of the article is desired upon completion, the actual cost of material is all that is required.

In a few of the sewing classes last year, very little time was devoted to the making of underwear, so this year such pupils are giving their attention to this work.

The making of baskets and serving trays is carried on by both boys and girls. Chair caning, while not entered into as extensively as last year, finds an important place. Several frames were woven in the fall, which are now being converted into tops for stools.

The parents have given Manual Training their hearty support, as have, also, the teachers, and each year sees a steady growth in this branch of school work.

Very respectfully,

ELLA M. HEWINS

Report of Supervisor of Music

To Mr. E. S. Foster, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

That the people of York may understand a little of what we are doing in school music and what our hopes are for the musical future of the town, this report is respectfully submitted.

We are educating the children in music so that they may in the near future do their part toward furthering the musical growth of our community. The junior choirs in some of our churches are a small beginning of this part of the plan, and we have reason to expect more as their confidence increases.

The boys and girls are ambitious. The Cape Neddick pupils bought a Victrola last spring. Last fall term a piano was placed in the Village School hall, and a fund started to pay for same. The pupils seem much interested in earning money to increase this fund. This term the Beach pupils decided to have a Victrola. They have it, and are now rehearsing an operetta, "Pandora," to pay for it. The boys of the Village school are to give a musical play, "Charter Oak" for the piano fund, and the Cape Neddick boys and girls will present "A Day in the Woods," that they may have more records.

The records that we use in the schools are those of the best orchestras and the greatest artists. The pupils are becoming familiar with some of the best operatic selections and are learning to distinguish the tones of the different orchestral instruments.

I have few visitors in my music classes, but I am sure this is due to lack of time and not of interest. In order that the townspeople may have a chance to see the results of our daily work in music we will have a Music Festival in the Town Hall sometime towards the last of March. The program will consist of songs and folk dances and possibly a model music period. There will be no admission fee. We hope to see the fathers and mothers and all others who are interested.

I am anxious that the school music periods should be of vital interest to the people of York and shall be glad to receive suggestions that will in any way make school music more beneficial to the community.

Sincerely yours,

CORDELIA E. SHAW.
